I've been good. Not sure why but the doc told me not to take the stitches out myself. I think my wife might have snitched on me.

Good news is the stitches are coming out this afternoon. I am feeling better, I get wore out quickly but still going at it. Got to get that kitchen finished you know.

Don't pull out any stitches! I assume you are healing well? That's the main thing.

No worries, I learned to be as flexible as a gymnast.

Hi Tom,

I think we can carpool together. It's probably going to be a long day....

Chad,

Cory Mikita, Deb Grim and I are planning to be in the parking lot of the plant site by 2.30 pm next Wednesday March 23rd. If you need to contact any of us just use the emails above, or call my cell on the day of the event. When we toured the site previously CFAC provided hard hats, safety glasses, and orange vests. If we are to drive about the site, SUVs are appropriate. The roads are easily passible in the dry summer but I could imagine them muddy on this day. Good boots are probably in order if we are to be getting in and out of trucks/suvs and tromping around a bit.

I've also cc'd Mike Cirian on this note, as I believe he is attending also. He and I might carpool over from Libby. Let me know if you have any questions,

tom
